Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 06 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Snow showers on Tuesday. Cloudier, less cold on Wednesday.

Today:
A sunny but cold start to Tuesday, with scattered snow showers. These will move quickly in the strong northerly wind, mostly during the afternoon, giving temporary accumulations over high ground. Significant wind chill expected. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tonight:
Another cold night with a widespread frost developing early. Any showers will die away during the evening, followed by lighter winds and largely clear skies. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Wednesday:
Less cold and generally cloudier on Wednesday, though dry and bright with some morning sunshine. Some rain overnight, perhaps preceded by a bit of snow over high ground. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Windy and dull on Thursday, feeling slightly milder. Overnight rain clearing to sunny but colder conditions on Friday and Saturday, with further wintry showers. Showers perhaps more frequent on Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.